GREEN TEA FACIAL

(30 MINUTES) £160

Harnessing the well-documented and fortifying properties of the tea leaf at its most ripe, the Surrenne Detox Green Tea Facial was developed to boost the skin’s ability to resist external stressors. Powerful antioxidants supplied by Copper Gluconate and Green Tea Extract are a first defence against the free radicals commonly found in urban environments. Further benefits of these properties include refining skin texture and lending a bright, more clarified appearance. The equivalent of drinking a daily cup of warm tea, the effect is one of balance, rejuvenation, and joy.

THE LYMA
PRO FACIAL

A variation on Shirodhara, an Ayurvedic procedure in which warm adaptogenic oil is poured from a vessel onto the forehead’s third eye chakra. Here, the therapist conducts a similar routine by hand, followed by a deep head massage to improve sleep quality, relax the nervous system, and alleviate stress.

BALLET BODYWORK

Adaptogenics are natural ingredients celebrated for their ability to calm and soothe. Supplied here in aromatic oil form, they are applied to the skin using a range of techniques, including deep tissue massage, stretching, infrared heat, live sound therapy, and biodynamic approaches to provide you with stress reduction, pain relief, emotional release, a sense of security and renewed confidence in your body. This adaptogenic massage goes beyond the surface, helping to shift energies, connecting you with your deeper self. Discover profound relaxation and balance.

Gentle, cautious, and attentive, this specialist treatment is designed for expectant and new mothers alike, from the second trimester through to post-partum. Emphasis is on the alleviation of muscle tension and fatigue, with gentle strokes applied to the whole body and specific areas of concern, while assisting to ease any other attendant discomfort during and after pregnancy.

The restorative power of touch is amplified in this transcendent treatment comprising simultaneous contact by two practitioners. A careful choreograph, formulated to alleviate tension at the deepest level of the muscular tissue, is facilitated by the use of adaptogenic Chakra oil. Adaptogenics are naturally derived extracts utilised to reduce stress. Here they infuse light, aromatic oils whose purpose is to both relax the body and gently reinvigorate its energetic systems. A combination of light strokes and more concerted pressure soothes the muscles and fascia, resulting in the rebalance of both body and mind.
